Presenter & Hospitality: Anthony Tomaselli will be both our demonstrator this month as well as provider of hospitality at his newest restaurant:

T's Restaurant

5600 Post Road

East Greenwich

(in the Benny's Plaza)

The restaurant is filled with his paintings to delight our eyes. Please remember the meeting will be at the restaurant. Vote early so that you can attend. You will still be able to get home in plenty of time to find out the election results.

Exhibits & Member News:

Our presenter for October was scheduled to be Vernon Graham. Due to his hospitalization, he was not able to attend that evening. Our deepest appreciation goes to Frances Topping for stepping in at the last minute to be our presenter. She demonstrated a watercolor and is best noted for her beautiful botanical paintings.

Tuesday Drop-In - Join us at the Frenchtown Parks and Recreation Building, 1127 Frenchtown Road, East Greenwich, across from the Frenchtown Elementary School, from 10:00 to 2:00. Bring a bag lunch.

Looking forward... The December meeting will be featuring US as the presenters of both artwork and, of course, refreshments. It is the month that we share the gift of our talent with each other as well as the opportunity to talk to fellow members. More information will be found in the next newsletter. In December we have our Member Art Show at the Cranston Library. Detailed information on the show will be sent separately. And remember, we do not meet in January.

Painting Inspiration Tip: "I think one of the most important things to do is keep receptive to ideas. Open your mind so you visualize compositions. You have to always be thinking about painting. I see something and say how can I paint this? If you only copy from a photo eventually that's all you will be able to do. I carry a note book and will jot down any ideas I get. Any colors I want to try and work into a painting. If I'm reading a book and a particular passage stirs my imagination I will write down what I feel." Tip from : Rich North
